

William Pepper is a barrister in the United Kingdom and admitted to the bar in numerous jurisdictions in the United States of America. He has represented governments in the Middle East, Africa, South America, and Asia. He was a friend of Martin Luther King in the last year of his life and later represented the King family in a wrongful death civil trial. The jury took less than an hour to find in favor of the King family. Today, Pepper represents Sirhan Sirhan, the gunman convicted in the assassination of Senator Robert F. Kennedy in June 1968.

Dear Graeme, Kevin and the 9/11 Truth Movement,

You have asked for a brief note at this sad time in our calendar.

First of all please allow me to express my gratitude for all that you and the many other citizens across this land, and indeed the world, have done and are continuing to try and accomplish with respect to bringing transparency to the tragic events of September 11, 2001.

The well researched articles, books written, presentations delivered and films produced have had an enormous impact on the thoughts and perspectives of thoughtful people everywhere who have been exposed to this work.

Unfortunately, for reasons we understand all too well, from other experiences, mainstream media and the masses of people remain outside of the emerging truthful facts of this new Pearl Harbor which will have changed the nature of life in this Republic and its citizens forever.

It is my view that all of this work and the revelations which have been uncovered will vanish into the dustbin of history and the official story will continue to be taught to future generations and accepted as historical fact. We have seen this be the case far too often in history, though from time to time we catch a glimpse of the truth about an event which the rulers of our world are intent upon suppressing.

The problem of disinformation is unfortunately compounded by the existence of gatekeepers, who are, on the surface, credible progressive advocates on other politically incorrect issues which, however, do not threaten, or go to the core -the essence- of the power of the ruling class and their domination over the public, and increasingly, private, decision making process. Such individuals, entities and practices (such as the electoral system) serve as safety valves for discontent, and, in reality, are far more insidious enemies of the truth than are the blatant naysayers. They end up being apostles of a false hope, whilst ignoring the issues of political assassination or the use of false flag operations to instill fear and justify war, abroad, and human rights suppression at home and abroad.

Can anything be done to counter this juggernaut-like force or must one wait until the system implodes as a result of allowing greed to run wild, along with the geometrical increase of human impoverishment and the unprecedented gap between the rich and the poverty stricken masses?

In my view, only a very carefully planned resort to the Courts - which with the best will in the world has not yet been properly tried - may bring some light to the dark night which pervades our national life.

Otherwise, the ruling forces will simply wait out the demise of the movement and the work of the infiltrators, provocateurs, gatekeepers, and mainstream informational suppression, will prevail as they have so often in the history of human societies.

For whom and for what do we exist? Non nobis solum nati sumus - surely not for ourselves alone.

Dr. William F. Pepper